

Eureka Springs Bluegrass Festival Announces Lineup

Bluegrass is back in Eureka Springs and it's free all weekend long.

This year's festival takes place October 13 and 14 in Basin Spring Park, and kicks off at 2 p.m. on Friday with Cedar Hill--a traditional Bluegrass band made up of six accomplished musicians and singers who have stayed true to their Ozark roots. Cedar Hill has been pleasing audiences everywhere with their original, emotional, exciting brand of traditional Bluegrass.

At 3:45 p.m., The Shook Twins take the stage. Identical twins, Katelyn and Laurie, are an Indie folk-pop band hailing from Portland, Oregon.

The Shook Twins are followed at 5:30 p.m. by The Black Lillies, an internationally-renowned band of roots-rockers, armed with songs that blur the boundaries between folk, soul, red dirt country, blues and jazz.

Saturday, October 14, from 1-7:00 p.m., music again fills the park. The Shook Twins return for another set at 1 p.m. At 2:30 p.m. Lonesome Road takes the stage. Lonesome Road has been pleasing crowds since 1997 with their expert pickin' and sweet harmonies.

Following Lonesome Road is Cedar Hill at 4:00 p.m. and the Black Lillies are back at 5:30 p.m. to wrap up the evening.

Free shuttles will be running to the Hillberry Music Festival at The Farm throughout the day.
