

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

A Night of Country Music at The Aud

The Historic Eureka Springs Auditorium at 36 S. Main Street will host a great night of country music on Friday, July 13. The performances kick off at 7:30 p.m. with The Wilson Brothers Band. The brothers, Chad and Kyle, got their start in music at a very early age, growing up in a musical family who were part of a successful gospel quartet. The boys learned to play instruments at a young age and performed together at ages 17 and 12. After several years of touring apart, the brothers joined back together in the spring of 2017 with a new vision and focus. Wilson Brothers Band was reborn and better than ever.

After The Wilson Brothers, singer Adam Cunningham will take the stage. Cunningham broke through on Season 13 of NBC's The Voice with a 6th place finish and a memorable performance on the Finale. Adam's high-energy stage presence and big, soulful southern voice was a stand out on a season to remember.

The Nashville based singer/songwriter has been in the studio recording a new single and touring the country this summer. Cunningham brings an entertaining performance to the stage, and delivers it with a rare vocal ability that can take a song and make it truly sing.

Tickets are $20 and on sale now at www.theaud.org.
